

01/14/19

WACO Family and Friends

We had a very good productive meeting, I wish you all could have been there. Mike made sandwiches for everyone and others provided some very good sides. Some were healthy vegetables, but we ate them anyway. 😊

We sure do have some great members.

Our January luncheon will be combined with our trip to the Starbird Devlin Show for Charity. On Friday 01/18/19 we will meet at "The Anchor" 1109 E. Douglas at 11:00 am. After we have lunch and BS for a while we will then head over to the show. If you do not plan on going to the show but you still want to come to the luncheon, that is OK also. I hope to see you there.

Not much new information here but we are working on several things for the club.

It has been suggested by several of our members that we change what day of the week we have our meetings at least several times a year so that people can attend that might not be able to attend on a Wednesday. This same suggestion was made about our WACO luncheons. We will try to make these changes on a regular basis in 2019.

We need to plan more cruises in 2019. Please help pick some places and times for cruises.

It is never too early to plan ahead.

Ron Fleming has some great cruise ideas for us in 2019. The rest of us need to come up with some ideas also so we can get them on the schedule. We can discuss this at the next several meetings.

You all need to get your stuff ready for the swap meet in March. We all have thing that we need to get rid of / sell.

Do we need to keep all 4 of our swap meet spaces or do we need to cut back to 2 spaces.

We need to pick a date and time for our 2019 Chili Cookoff if we are going to do it again. Come to the next meeting and help us put the plans together.

I think we hold our elections in March for WACO officers, so please think about running / volunteering for one of the officers positions.

I think that is all for now. I hope to see all of you in 2019. Please check out the items below.

Older News

At the last luncheon the club members decided that since WACO has some money in the bank, WACO should start buying the appetizers during our luncheons. This will be an added benefit to being a paid up member of WACO.

Another item that we discussed at the luncheon is that during the out of town Regionals, current members of WACO should get together for breakfast, lunch or dinner at least once and have WACO pay for the food. We decided that we should discuss both of these topics at the next meeting so nothing was put in stone at this time.
